Praise in a Pickle

by Pastor Jim Fleming

And when they began singing and praising, the Lord set ambushes against the sons of Ammon, Moab, and Mount Seir, who had come against Judah; so they were routed (2 Chronicles 20:22).

King Jehoshaphat was in a pickle. Years earlier, when Israel entered the Promised Land, they did not engage Ammon and Moab. God asked Israel to deal with Canaan, but Ammon and Moab were off-limits. Now, many years later, these two nations decided they would reward Israel for the favor of being spared by invading and seizing the land God had given Israel. “Am” and “Mo” had the muscle (the ammo!) to pull it off, too. Along with the Meunites from Mount Seir, they comprised an innumerable horde. Jehoshaphat knew Judah didn’t stand a chance against them.

He did what any genuinely smart king would do; he stood before the Lord and cried out for deliverance. The people stood with him, God heard, and a prophet named Jahaziel put things in proper perspective. Through this prophet, God declared His battle plan. He revealed the enemy’s precise position, identified their strategy, and then invited the army of Judah to come as forward observers (but non-combatants) to the location where God would foil the enemy’s designs.

The people accepted God’s invitation and rose early the next morning to position themselves at the coordinates God had designated. Now granted, if God didn’t come through, they would be walking into the yawning mouth of disaster. But they chose to believe God more than their reason. Jehoshaphat took “trusting God” up a notch, too. He asked the praise team, “those who sang to the Lord and those who praised Him in holy attire,” to broadcast their position as if this was a victory parade.

The lyrics to the robust chorus were a simple declaration of trust, “Give thanks to the Lord, for His lovingkindness is everlasting.” Here’s an expanded version of what they were singing: We have not yet seen what God will do, but we already know the motive behind whatever He does. It’s love! This is the truth that will not change. However things play out, the result will put on display a God whose love never stops. So while someone who doesn’t have this trust might march to the battlefield in sober silence, we are making a musical ruckus because we already know who will look good when the dust has settled. We are praising Him even now.

When the praise started ricocheting off the valley walls of Tekoa, something amazing happened. Ammon and Moab mistook Seir for the enemy and completely wiped them out. Then Ammon and Moab turned on each other. When the singing army of Judah came to a lookout point, this imposing horde from Ammon, Moab, and Seir had been reduced to a field of the fallen.

So here’s the point: In this incident, there is a clear division of labor. God says, “I’ll do the fightin’.” Jehoshaphat says, “And we’ll do the praisin’.” So take a cue from Jehoshaphat. When you face opposition from someone who has decided to take on God, you may not know the specifics of how things will turn out. But you can start humming what you do know: God’s lovingkindness is your constant.

If you are facing daunting opposition and impossible spiritual challenges, maybe you need to praise God for what you know rather than fret over what you don’t. Quit stressing over the fightin’ and start singing “Jesus loves me, this I know.” When you’re in a pickle, that’s a great time to praise the Lord! Loudly!!

STAFF

Mickey Bowdon Joins Our Team

We want to welcome Mickey Bowdon to our staff team. Mickey will be coming alongside Jim Henry helping expand our ministry and better care for the needs of our senior adults. Mickey has a tremendous heart for our seniors, some of whom he has known his entire life.

Mickey's parents began attending First Evan before he was even born. Regarding the opportunity to serve on our staff, Mickey said:

"FEC has impacted my life from birth. At every stage in my life, FEC has been a foundation of faith and a blessing to me and my family. I pray that God will allow me to give back to this church which has given so much to me."

Mickey brings a wealth of experience as an administrator, organizational leader, consultant, shepherd and churchman. He was ordained as an elder at First Evan in 1975.

After serving 20 years as high school principal, Headmaster, and President at Evangelical Christian School in Memphis, Mickey went on to serve as Executive Director of the Institute for Christian School Development, Headmaster of Shoals Christian School in Florence, Alabama, Superintendent of Westminster Christian Academy in Opelousas, Louisiana, and President of SchoolMasters, a Christian school research and consulting firm. He has also served as a Regional Council member for the Association of Christian Schools International, President of the Memphis Association of Independent Schools, President of the Memphis

Association of Christian Schools, Independent School Management Board Member, and member of the Board of Trustees at Bryan College.

Immediately before returning to Memphis, Mickey served as Vice-President for Christian School Education at Columbia International University (CIU) in Columbia, SC. He is also founder and former Director of the Lowrie Center for Christian School Education at CIU. In 2013 Mickey received the Columbia International University Presidents Award for Outstanding Leadership. He served for 17 years as Moderator of the Christian School Roundtable, and is now Lead Partner in Bowdon Miller Shepherding Group, a Christian school consulting firm, and is a frequent speaker at Christian schools and conventions.

He and his wife Cheryl have been married 57 years, have 2 children, one grandchild, and now reside in Southaven, Mississippi.

Jim Henry and Mickey Bowden are both demonstrating to us the true meaning of life-long service to the Lord and showing us, in real time, what it looks like to "Glorify Jesus Christ and magnify His gospel in all of life until He comes."

GLOBAL MISSIONS

God at Work: Acts Chapter 29— An Extraordinary Story of Ordinary People by P & J, SE Asia

Arthur T. Pierson, in his classic book Acts of the Holy Spirit, 1895, page 18 writes,

“Church of Christ! The records of these acts of the Holy Ghost have never reached completeness. This is the one book which has no proper close, because it waits for new chapters to be added so fast and so far as the people of God shall reinstate the blessed Spirit in his holy seat of control.”

The book of Acts ended abruptly for a purpose. The story of the birth and the growth of the church continues to the present time, as faithful Jesus followers, around the world, are adding their words of God’s work to Acts chapter 29.

See photos below of Jesus followers we have been working with in the last five years. They are adding their stories to ACTS CHAPTER 29. WHAT ABOUT US? Are we adding our stories to Acts chapter 29?

JETS Report by Ron Man

Missionary in Residence, WRI

I taught two weeks in June and July at Jordan Evangelical Theological Seminary (JETS) in Amman (for the 10th time). This is an amazing school that strategically draws students from across the Arabic-speaking world: my class included students from Jordan, Syria, Egypt, Sudan, South Sudan, and Armenia. God is at work in the school, and in the lives of these courageous students: most of them plan to return to their home countries after graduation to minister for Christ, often in very difficult situations. The students expressed that the course inspired them and deepened their understanding of worship, the Scriptures, and the glory of God.

Another highlight of the trip was attending the Friday(!) morning worship service at the Sudanese International Church in downtown Amman. (Friday is a day off work, following the predominantly Muslim culture and its Friday “Sabbath.”) While founded by Sudanese immigrants, the church actually is attended by people from over 30 different countries, and the singing was in Arabic, English, and a number of other languages too (pictured below).

The photo (pictured below) is of my class at the foot of the seminary’s prayer tower, all pointing to its inscription: “Christ in you, the hope of glory” (Colossians 1:27). The school is truly “a city on a hill” and a “light in the darkness” in the heart of the Middle East!

Romania Trip Report by Abigail Warren

Jesus said the world would know we are His by the way we love each other.

That verse was evident as First Evan sent eight high school students and seven adults to Romania July 15–24. The team partnered with Eclesia Church and nationals, Dan and Ema Onu to host a VBS-style camp. Many of the kids were from Paun, a poor village outside of Iasi where Eclesia is building a youth and multi-purpose center.

The team partnered with young adults from Eclesia where about 100 elementary-age children heard the gospel and learned how God fights our battles through the story of Joshua. As the young adults and students led the camp, some parents came and Dan, Ema and their family and friends from the church were able to engage them in gospel-centered conversations. Romanian Orthodoxy has a stronghold on the culture. Oftentimes Eclesia and the Onus are having to unteach the burdens of the Orthodox religion and share the hope and freedom of a relationship with Jesus.

The team had some who had lived on the mission field and some who had never been on a mission trip. Only four had been to Romania before July 16, and it had been 10 years since First Evan had sent a team there, but it was hard to tell. The American team meshed with the Romanian team in a way that portrayed the gospel and gave the entire team a bigger picture of the global church.

Some of the kids at VBS were from Iasi. Some were wearing the same outfit multiple days, but the love of Christ was evident whether spending time at camp, visiting homes and praying for gypsies or loving the families of Paun.

We encourage you to come to the Missions lunch on August 20 to hear more about how God is at work in Romania.

The favorite of many might be the giant waterslide on our own east lawn, followed by watermelon and ice cream. ## An Emphasis on Biblical Literacy and Discipleship

Our 2023–24 ministry goals for the year are to teach and encourage Biblical literacy and family discipleship. With those goals in mind, we have restructured Sunday mornings to better fulfill our role of walking alongside parents as they disciple their children.

NEW SCHEDULE

Sunday School

9:30–10:30 a.m., PreK–5th gr.

FEC Kids will kick off the new year in the New Testament as we continue in chronological Bible study with The Gospel Project for Kids. Student Ministries and some adult Sunday School classes will also be following along the same lesson schedule with the Gospel Project curriculum. Our prayer is that rich, gospel-centered conversations will happen as a result of families studying the same portion of scripture during the week. Sunday School is available for PreK–5th grade.

Children's Church

10:30 a.m.–12:00 p.m., PreK

Children’s Church will be available for preschool aged children. Preschoolers will stay in their Sunday School classes and their teachers will walk them to our new Children’s Church room downstairs in the C-wing.

In an effort to further encourage family discipleship, starting on promotion Sunday, elementary-aged children (K–5th) will attend the worship service with their families. The Chapel will be available should anyone need it. Children’s sermon notes will include two new questions each week to discuss over lunch or on your way home from church on Sunday morning. We are also restocking the resource shelves at each entrance to the sanctuary.

Please contact FEC Kids at feckids@firstevan.org if your family needs extra support during the Sunday school and/or worship hour).
